

Nurirdzuana Ismail

Nurirdzuana Ismail is currently the Head of Integrity and Governance in MAXIS.

She was the Head of Integrity & Risk Management at Petronas and prior to that, she was the Head for External Affairs for Chief Integrity Officer's Office, Petronas since 2014.

Together with the Chief Integrity Officer, she leads the Global Integrity and Compliance Organization of PETRONAS and reports to the President/Group CEO and the Risk and Governance Board Management. She is responsible to champion and elevate awareness in integrity and ethics amongst Petronas employees and stakeholders through development and implementation of a structured anti-corruption program including trainings and communications.

Before joining PETRONAS, she was assigned to NKRA Fighting Corruption as the Head for Strategic Media & Communication and was an Assistant Commissioner with the MACC.

She was the Lead Implementer for ISO37001:2016 Anti-Bribery Management System (ABMS) For PETRONAS Group of Companies. Her areas of expertise includes Corruption Risk Management, Integrity, Anti- Corruption and Governance Training and Anti-Bribery Management System implementation. She is a certified trainer for anti-corruption, corporate governance and compliance by Basel Institute Of Governance, Switzerland

