

Roufizah Razali, a native of Kuala Lumpur, brings extensive experience as the Regional Senior Partnerships and Funding Manager, SEA, at The Ocean Cleanup. With a foundation in marketing communication and advertising, she has traversed diverse sectors, including roles at foreign trade organization, multinational corporations, and NGOs, specializing in partnership and stakeholder engagement.

Acknowledged for her collaborative approach, Roufizah has nurtured impactful relationships with governments and corporations, leveraging her diverse background to cultivate meaningful connections for both business and societal advancement. Beyond her professional endeavors, she is deeply dedicated to catalyzing social change and advocating for diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Currently steering funding initiatives for the ASEAN region, particularly for the river projects, Roufizah combines her expertise in partnership building with her fervent commitment to environmental sustainability. This positions her as a persuasive advocate for enduring regional impact.